A SULTRY SUNDAY.

The Intense Heat Deters Thousands From Attending

WORSHIP AT THE VARIOUS CHURCHES

Who Preached and What About—Three New Deacons Ordained in the Second Baptist Church—Notes.

The excessive heat yesterday was a deterrent upon a large proportion of Atlanta's church-going population. Consequently, the congregations in the various churches were unusually small.

At Trinity Church.

The Rev. J. W. Lee, D. D., preached to a good congregation in the morning. The subject of his sermon was: "Finding Life by Losing It." He declared the fundamental principle of Christianity to be self-sacrifice, self-realization by self-renunciation. To find the large life of civilization one must lose himself to the narrow life of the savage. To find the life of the spirit one must lose in a controling and dominant sense the life of the flesh. In the evening he preached on "Making the most of Life," from the text, "Be ye also perfect as your father which is in heaven is perfect." To make most of himself and his environment, one must come to be conscious of the physical, mental and spiritual forces which enter into his being, and of the uses to which they can be put. These must be put to the highest uses of which they are capable in order to get most out of life. A large part of the individual's self is in his [illegible] should our light be. The essence of this light is love.

God is the light of the world and God is love. While I reprobate sin I would throw the mantle of charity over the sinner. The coming together of God's people throughout the world without regard to creed is augmenting the power of the church for good. The light of love leads to useful lives. There are only 600,000 saloon keepers who do not lead useful lives. The churches are doing noble and efficient work for the good of mankind.

The light of the Christian is an everlasting light, for love endureth forever.

The sermon was eloquent and impressive, and listened to with rapt attention by the large congregation. At the close of the sermon $145.85 was raised in fifteen or twenty minutes to extinguish all claims against the church for finishing the building. The exercises closed with dedicatory prayer by Rev. J. H. Weaver.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS.

Mrs. Rebecca Frolmshon and Mrs. S. Brzezinlskis Die Sunday Evening.

Last Friday morning Mrs. Rebecca Frolmshon was apparently one of the healthiest women in Atlanta. To-day she is a corpse. About 1 o'clock Friday she was taken ill suddenly. She had no premonition of her attack. She suffered with violent shooting pains in the head and soon went into convulsions. Physicians were called to her aid, but they were powerless to afford her any relief. From the moment she was attacked until yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when she died, there was no hope for her. During this time she had thirty convulsions.

The deceased was a most estimable woman. She was born in New York thirty-eight years ago. Her family now reside in New Orleans, whither her remains will go today. She had lived in Atlanta for some years, and during her residence here made many friends. Her husband is a well known tailor, whose place of [illegible]
