$20,000 SAVED BY RIVAL BIDS

Spicy Meeting on Filtration Plant Contract.

Continental Jewel Filtration Company Wins With $31,000 Bid, But Minority Report Will Charge American Company Did Not Have Fair Deal.

After a rather spicy session, which lasted three hours, the water board and bond commission yesterday voted to award to the New York Continental Jewel Filtration Company the contract for erecting in city's new filtration plant. The plant is to have a capacity of 10,000,000 gallons daily and will cost $31,000.

The decision was reached only after a determined fight on the part of three members who stated they believed that the American Water Softener Company had not been given a square deal in the matter.

The Continental and the American were the only two companies entered on the work, it will be remembered. Other companies had said it stated they could not be induced that the Continental "had the business sewed up," to use their expression. The bids, as submitted, showed that the Continental wanted $32,500, while the American asked only $30,515.

On account of the unexpected low bid of the American's bid, the committee in considering the matter Wednesday, decided to increase the capacity of the plant from the 5,000,000-gallon capacity, on which the bids were made, to 10,000,000.

Determined to Get Job.

This was done after J. E. E. Milligan, of the Continental, had given out the statement that he said that he would scrap the plant for $25,000, or even less, before he would allow the American to get the contract.

On the bids for the increased capacity, instead of raising the price, the Continental dropped from $45,000 to $31,000. The American went up from $31,500 to $32,000.

Those who opposed awarding the contract to the Continental pointed out that the committee had submitted bids in good faith and that the American had underbid the Continental by $11,000; that had the American made its bid, the Continental would have charged the city approximately $40,000 for the work, which it now offers to do for $31,000; that by this means the American has saved the city practically $10,000, and so deserved the contract.

It was also pointed out that there is yet $3,000,000 of the bond money to be spent on work on which competitive bids will be taken, and that the "underbidding off" of the present contract will give the city a bad reputation among prospective bidders.

On the other hand, those who favored giving the contract to the Continental, pointed out that, no matter how the bids were obtained the Continental now proposes to do the work for $1,500 less than the American, and so should get the contract.

The opponents of the recommendation, as adopted, announced that they will make a minority report to council.

WITNESSES COACHED BY THE ACCUSED MEN

Another Sensation Developed by the Illinois Bribery Probe.

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—Disclosures of a sensational character were made before the Sangamon county grand jury of the existence in Springfield of a school of instruction for witnesses who have been summoned by State's Attorney Burke.

The activity of certain representatives of the accused legislators in Springfield has been watching for the issuance of subpoenas and the arrival of witnesses caused a quiet investigation. It appears that witnesses were coached as to what to say when before the grand jury.

It is expected that at least half a dozen persons will be named in the disclosures returned, which will cover the offenses of conspiracy to commit a felony, perjury, and bribetering with public administration of justice.

GOLDEN RULE CHIEF FOUND NOT GUILTY

Kohler Is Acquitted of the Charge of Immorality.

Cleveland, June 24.—Fred Kohler, the "Golden Rule" chief of police, who was suspended from his position by Mayor Baehr upon the filing of charges alleging drunkenness and immorality, was reinstated by the civil service commission here today. Kohler will be re-instated at once.

Kohler has a satirical reputation as a chief of police. He established a system of dealing with first offenders outside of court, which gave him the name of "Golden Rule" chief. He was also called "the best chief" by President Roosevelt. On May 20 charges were filed with twenty-three specifications against Kohler by Director Cox. Kohler, on May 31 he was suspended and his trial before the commission began May 31 it continued until June 14.

During the trial thirteen counts were dropped by the prosecution.

THEATER OWNERS WIN BIG POINT

Four Allies of 'Syndicate' Will Play Their Houses.

Henry Savage Decides to Play Houses of the Independents as Well as Those of Syndicate—Three Other Producers Will Do the Same.

The National Association of Theater Managers scored a big point yesterday in an agreement reached with four of the allies of Klaw & Erlanger, by which these producing managers will present their shows in national theater houses.

This does not mean that they have absolutely deserted Klaw & Erlanger. The agreement does not bar these producers from playing "syndicate" houses, but it does give them an opening for their shows in the one and two-night stands.

Henry Savage has already declared he will play in the national theater owners' houses, and three others, whose names have not been given out, will announce later. It is confidently expected that Henry Harris will also come across, if he is not one of the three, whose names are withheld, since his productions must go on the road, of course.

"This is exactly what we expected to happen, and what we have been looking for," said Hugh Cardoza, secretary of the Southern Theater Association, when told of the telegram.

The message to The Constitution is sent by J. J. Coleman, in response to a request for a statement on the situation.

It follows:

"New York, June 24.—(Special.)—The National Theater Owners' Association and Henry W. Savage today announced that they have agreed that he will play his numerous attractions in the theaters under the control of the National Theater Owners' Association.

"This arrangement fulfills the object for which the National Theater Owners' Association has been fighting. Out of bringing all producing managers to an agreement such as will allow them to play contracts independently, and not permit producing managers or any others from placing their offerings in syndicate theaters in the large cities, but does allow them to adopt the 'open door' policy.

"Several other syndicate producers have declared for the independent movement. These men for certain reasons have refrained from declaring themselves in their intention, but they will play the time in 'open door' houses. Those who have declared themselves by Klaw & Erlanger have long looked their attractions with the National Theater Owners' Association.

"Secretary National Theater Owners' Association."

OF SOUTH SIDE PROPERTY BRYAN M. GRANT TALKS

BRYAN M. GRANT.

"As sure as the needle points to the North Pole, so sure is it that persons who want to invest their money in paying Atlanta dirt can buy in that section which is termed the south side."

So states Bryan M. Grant, one of the largest and most successful dealers in real estate in Atlanta, and his views are indorsed by all the other real estate men.

Mr. Grant's opinion has secured an interview with Mr. Grant, which is given below, and with many of the other real estate dealers whose declarations in regard to south side property will be published from time to time.

The Second and Third Ward Club has developed a great deal of interest about the south side, especially in the second and third wards. Mr. Grant was asked if he did not think the club was doing a great work for the south side, if within six months there has not been a decided improvement in south side real estate. After making the remark quoted in the opening paragraph of this article, Mr. Grant continued, saying:

Second and Third Wards.

"Speaking first of that section of Atlanta lying in the second and third wards, I can state that there is no part of the city which offers more advantageous sites for homes or blocks for business purposes. There are in these two wards elevated ridges upon which are to be found some of the very best residence streets. It is true that parts of these two wards have been neglected in the past and have not been given the sewerage, the water and the paved streets and sidewalks that were commensurate with the growth and development of that section of the city. Many thrifty people and home-owners were permit settled. Through the zeal and uplifting efforts of the Second and Third Ward Club there has been quite a change within the past six months. In that section of the city sewers, water mains are being laid, sewers are being put in, streets are being paved, sidewalks are being paved. If the city and county officials are made to give this part of Atlanta what it is entitled to, the south side will soon become one of the most attractive sections of Atlanta.

In Vicinity of Terminal Station.

"Every real estate man knows that that part of South Atlanta lying in the vicinity of the Terminal station is destined to become a great manufacturing center. This is already being demonstrated by the manufacturing plants locating there. Fort McPherson and Inman Brownsville offers the most desirable sites for manufacturers. This same section of the city is greatly advantageous for wholesale commercial houses.

"Taking the south side altogether, 'swinging around the circle,' as a great many people say, there is no part of the city of Marietta street, to the east of Decatur street, I or any other real estate man can truthfully state now that values are looking up and the prediction can be made that this will continue until this section of Atlanta contains lots its own."

This is the first of a series of interviews with real estate men in regard to south side properties. Others will follow, and it is the purpose of the writer to show that if the south side has been sleeping over its rights and advantages it has not been the case much when this will no longer be the case.

THEATERS

Lyric.

There were two large audiences present yesterday at the Lyric theater, where "The House of a Thousand Candles" is now being presented by the Emma Bunting Stock Company. There is a thrill every minute in this dramatic version of Meredith Nicholson's novel, and every one leaves the theater feeling that he or she has had his or her money's worth. In the heroic role of John Gleazen, George Whitaker, leading man of the organization, presents a manly figure, while Miss Emma Bunting, who appears as the heroine, Marjorie Dorrevan, Tuesday's bill, beginning Monday night, will be "Lena Ashwell."

At the Forsyth.

Four more appearances of the star vaudevillians at the Forsyth and the folk who have not been to the new theater this week will have lost the opportunity of seeing what is by all odds the best bill of straight vaudeville, is being offered, and a stronger one cannot be put together. The same bill will be given at the matinee today and tomorrow, the "starting time" Sunday and day all the time.

For next week the feature will be one of the finest comedy acts in vaudeville, Gaffney and Walters, eccentric comedy trio, Welch, Mealy and Montrose, and another feature will be the Three California Girls in a novelty musical and singing act. An Indian act, a comedy sketch and a singing act complete the company and the famous Olive Young bear roller is to be one of the minor cards.

New Capital for Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., June 24.—Federal Judge Campbell this afternoon signed the decree admitting Oklahoma and Indian Territory to statehood. Governor Haskell and Secretary of State Cross from Washington, Guthrie, Okla., June 24.—Federal Judge Campbell this afternoon signed the decree admitting Oklahoma and Indian Territory to statehood.
